

Fire in the Neighborhood of Lawrenceville In Pittsburgh Still Under Investigation

By Nick Markowitz, Jr.

FireNetOnline Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Penn., February 01, 2007 (FireNetOnline.com) -- Several rows of residential structures in the 5300 block of Dresden Way, which runs Parallel to Butler Street in Lawrenceville in the city of Pittsburgh, were damaged in a fire. The cause is still under investigation.

Firefighters had to deal with the bitter cold temperature and tight alleyways but did a fantastic job in limiting damages to only the adjacent homes.

Photography by Nick Markowitz, Jr.